STEEL MEN DECLINE TO DEFER WALKOUT:

Not Only Employes of United States Steel Corporation, But Every Non-Unionized Steel Worker in the Country Will Be COMMITTEES ARE NAMED Affected, Says Union Official.

BULLETIN

DETROIT, Sept. 19 .- Officials of the lake sailors' union announced this afternoon that the sailors at this port had voted unanimously in favor of a strike on ore carrying lines in sympathy with the strike of the steel workers called for September 22. Two hundred and thirty-nine ballots were cast. . A vote of the cooks' and stewards' union and the marine firemen's, oilers', water tenders' and coal passers' union is in progress and tabulation will be completed Saturday.

After despatching a letter to President Wilson denying his request to efer the steel strike until after the industrial conferenc on October 6, 24 international unions left the city. At last night's session a formal voto defer the strike was considered. This was defeated. Then a motion reaffirming the decision to strike on September 22 was unanimously adopted.

Independent Mill is Closed

President Wilson was told in the letter that "after a thorough, calm and deliberate review and study of the entire situation more than 2,000,000 organized men indorsed the strike and September 22 as the date thereof." The whole blame for the strike was placed on the head of Judge Gary, chairman of the steel corporation, who refused to receive the leaders in

"Win or lose, the strike is inevitable and will continue until industrial despotism will recede from the untenable position now occupied by Mr. Gary,' the president was told.

Anticipating the strike, the McKeesport Tin Plate company, an indendent concern, today closed down its hot mill at Port Vue, throwing 1800 men out of work. The finishing department, where 1200 are employed, was kept going because of congested business. Unsettled conditions was given as the cause for the shutdown. This was the first instance in this district of any of the steel plants closing.

Deputies are Sworn In

Reports from the many steel communities around Pittsburg today told of increased efforts to prevent any trouble next week. Employes of the big plants in McKeesport were being sworn in as deputies. A barricade was being thrown up around the Duquesne plant and it was said that electrically charged wires would be placed on top of the high fence.

A: the New Castle works of the Carnegie Steel company where 10,490 men (re employed, a set of resolutions saying that they are satisfied with conditions and decrying the fforts of "paid agitators and foreigners" to create dissensions there was passed among the employes. It pledges the men to remain at work and those who circulated it, claim approximately 85 per cent of the men signed.

At Martins Ferry, O., the entire police was on duty at the Whittaker-Glessner and Laughlin Steel plants today as a result of a strike of foreign band of Wellsville and possibly the laborers there for increased pay. The strike caused the plants to close down and 1600 men are idle. The strike is independent of the nation-wide walkout next week.

ESCAPED INJURIES WHEN AUTO TOOK PLUNGE

Because he jumped from his automobile as it started over a steep em bankment on the Lisbon road, a short distance from the Kountz slaughter house about 8:30 o'clock Thursday night, turning turtle before it was stopped, Fred Jones of the Lisbon road probably escaped serious, if not fatal, injuries.

Jones, on his way home after a ride, lost control of his machine as it was passing the embankment. The car stopped about half way down the hill, it is said, caught in the vines and trees. A team of horses was used in pulling it back to the road.

AN ATTEMPT TO RESTORE THE SALOON.

Apparently unmindful of the overwhelming defeat sustained last fall, when state-wide prohibition was adopted, and the second blow to their hopes when the state legislature ratified the federal prohibition amendment, the liquor forces on November 4 will at tempt to disinter the body of John Barleycorn.

The Columbiana county election board Thursday was officially notified by the secretary of state that four proposals, all supported by the liquor interests, will be submitted to the electors at the November election. Four distinct propositions, involved in two ballots on which a vote will be taken, have for their purpose the nullifying of the state and federal amendments to the constitution prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

One ballot aims to repeal state-wide prohibition, restore the saloon license system and decree 2.75 per cent beer non-intoxicating; another calls for a referendum vote on the prohibition enforcement bill, known as the Crabbe act, enacted by the Ohio assembly, and also for approval or rejection of the state legislature's ratification of the federal prohibition amendment.

Every attempt of the liquor interests to revive the sale of weer and whiskey in this state should be defeated. Even in the brief period in which Ohio has experienced state-wide prohibition -the law became effective May 27—the beneficial results are apparent. A glance at the police court register, where the list of offenders has dwindled to an insignificant number, and the absence of the intoxicated persons on the streets is convincing evidence of the good effects of the elimination of the saloon. And the number of happy homes that inevitably followed the decree which sent John Barleycorn into oblivion is an additional argument in favor of the repudiation of any attempt to return to the old order of things.

Unless all signs fail, Ohio electors will not be confused by the liquor interests' moves this fall.

BUYING FOREIGN BONDS.

An American financier who has been studying financial conditions abroad advises his fellow countrymen to invest in foreign bonds.

Foreign exchange is admittedly in a bad way. The money of the allied nations has been steadily declining in value, as compared with American money. This makes business transactions difficult, and interferes with the payment of foreign obligations. The chief cause of this trouble is the fact that Europe's debt to the United States government and to individual Americans is already so great.

The expert mentions four conceivable ways of bringing in ternational money standards back to normal. The first is the shipment of gold from Europe to America. But that is impossible, because Europe has not enough gold. The second is the shipment of goods. That is a natural process, but a very slow one. The third is the extension of "dollar credits." That is purely a banking proposition, which does not interest the ordinary American. Besides, Europe has already been given a vast amount of credit.

The fourth method, the purchase of foreign securities, is held to be the best way. This means mostly foreign war bonds. There is really much to be said for them, from the standpoint of profit. British 5 per cent bonds are selling at par, and French, Italian and Belgian bonds are selling well above their issue price, most of them giving a return of 5 to 6 per cent.

"By buying foreign securities," says this financier, "you are helping toward the improvement of the foreign exchanges which will mean a profit to you on your foreign investments and a profit en your domestic investments because through helping the foreign exchange situation to readjust itself you will help the development of your domestic industry and commerce."

Still, there is a big demand for investment money right here at home, with many profitable opportunities. It is a question whether both profit and patriotism do not demand domestic rather TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY than foreign investment.

NOBLES AND SERFS ALIKE HERE.

There is, in one of our eastern cities today, a Russian nobleman. He is penniless, seeking some sort of work which will enable him to send for his wife and family who are living in poverty abroad.

Before the war this man was wealthy. He had held high official positions in Russia. When the Bolshevist uprisings came his wealth was confiscated, and he and his family were forced to and Mrs. A. . Thompson, all of this flee for their lives. It is one of the strange upheavals wrought by the war which brings this man to labor side by side with the refugees who fled from Russia when it was in the hands of the nobility, and who have toiled unceasingly, starved themselves and city left today for a visit with friends undergone every privation to bring their families to free and safe in Carroll county. America.

Freedom and safety will have new meaning for this member of an autocratic class now that he has experienced in his own body the terrors of an opposite condition. The down-trodden and abused, fighting for themselves and the families they love, will call to something in him now that will answer.

Whether the nobleman working for his living in free America will succeed as well as the humbler brother who came before him will be an interesting thing to see. America will play no favorites; the one that works the hardest will get the most.

A bank now occupies what was formerly the site of a famous left today for a two months' visit saloon in Paris. This is the best suggestion yet for using saloon gites.

Measure the thing you are about to buy by the number of Lewis of this city motored to Lancashours you will have to work to pay for it. If it still seems worth ter yesterday. having, go to it!

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. MCINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 .-I have just been

Up at Newport I have

And I went to a horse show For the first time

And saw more bow-legged m€n

With brittle legs

In half soled britches And invisible mustaches

Than I ever saw before,

And I also saw a dog

That was named Minnie Wearing a rain coat

And there was a fellow

With patent leather hair

Who had a dog

That wore a bathing suit,

And over at Bailey's Beach

A little bit of a shaver In a velvet suit

With silver buckles

Sat down in the sand

And a lady with a lorgnette Snached him up quickly

And the poor kid looked blue,

And I'd like to take him To the old pig pen,

Across the creek back home,

And let him go barefoot

And make the mud squirt

Up between his toes, And everybody's excited

About a prince coming

And they were all catting,

I mean chatting,

About which one

Would entertain him,

And if it was up to me

I'd let him stay at a hotel Where he could talk

To red headed bell boys

And shoot a little craps,

But the poor young feller

Will have to live

Like his ancestors Sleeping under silken robes

With gardens all around

And butlers watching him

When he uses the wrong fork

And stepping on carpet

That gives under the feet

Like stepping on a cat

And O yes! The only horse

That had a tail

At the horse show

Was one driven

By a hostler.

Choose Your Suitings Now

Farsighted people are selecting their dress goods here and now. It is farsightedness that leads them to do this, for there are certain fine weaves, colors and patterns from the best mills, that are shown here exclusively and cannot be duplicated. Such goods as wool taffeta, wool poplin, cashmere, tricotines, broadcloths, serges and cheviots, corduroys, velveteens and sport plaid, are liberally represented in the department just now, and these are the fine goods that good tailors use as the foundation on which to create their most exclusive models. There are several fabrics of a most desirable kind that are here for the first and last time this season and we advise that you see these as soon as possible. Dress Goods Section-Main floor

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff,

Do You Know Good Clothes Are Scarce?

Men of the United States this Fall will not be able to find enough clothes—good clothes—to go 'round. Reliable woolens are too scarce. Skilled tailors too few. Production is far behind demand-will be for months to come. In such a situation is it likely every clothes maker will be "fussy" on the subject of quality? When he can turn out his product about as he pleases and still find a ready market for it, is it likely?

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Out Your Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to sek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really nee of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tal espoonful in a glass of water before breakfast continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acld of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by urle acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no had effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, efferves relieves bladder trouble

tax protests are launched against the Miss Mary Apple, who attends the These protests even weil so far that the house agreed to repeal the taxes upon fruit juices, but the repeal came to a standstill in the senate.

Next to the soda water protests come the tirades against the "movies" being subjected to taxes. These petitions for the most part declare that "movies" are the "poor man's theater" and that it is unjust to place a war tax upon them.

Protests against the taxes upon costly clothing have not come in any great numbers from the people, but have been lodged chiefly by those who are in the trade.

Numerous agents are working in ngress now attempting to secure the repeal of some of the war taxes, and there is a great deal of lobbying going on against the taxes, but it is not meeting with much success.

From all indications the much de tested taxes are with us to stay until the war expenses bear less heavily upon the public treasuries. Congress has adopted a policy of repealing none of the taxes unless some other manner of procuring revenue can be offered, and thus far there haven't been any valuable suggestions. Revision of the wartime taxes is not at all likely in the very near future because congress is attempting to escape another loan being floated by the treasury department.

While the tax protests are numerous, they are not the only protests that reach congress. The American people are pretty quick to speak their mind, and there is seldom a day that goes by but what the American people cost themselves about $2,000 for expression of opinion. Petitions of protest which are printed in the Record generally take up from three to four pages and the cost of printing the Record is high.

Cincinnati is baseball bughouse fight now-and will be until the end

And nobody begrudges the Ohio Cinci and the Red fans that have backed the team with the patience of Job bave waited a long time for a pennant-winning club.

Right now the main desire in the of every Red-blooded fan is to obtain a seat-or standing room - at one or more of the world series contests in their home town. Garry Herrmann and his aides estimate that they have received one hundred thousand requests for tickets to date with the series some distance away. Most of the fans are willing to pay the price of admission for three games to see one, although the plan of selling tickets for not less than three games has caused some

It was the unheard of demand for tickets that caused Garry Herrmann to propose to the league that the series be extended from seven to games. His proposition was This means that Cinci fans will be sure of at least three games, if the classic opens in Ohio, even though one team makes it five straight in copping the series. opens in Chicago the Red bugs will it was announced definitely today.

The idea has caused a holler, though, from Syndicate baseball, so called, orig some of that class of fans whose inated in 1890 when the Players Brothapplications started. Obviously, they nish the New York club with finanare under a handicap.

Garry's move in jimmying the .615 price of tickets up to as high as five dollars a throw-and adding an obli gation to buy tickets for three games to obtain one ducet, also has caused 415 grumbling. Some of the fans have gone so far as to protest to the prosecutng attorney at Cinciville, alleging profiteering on Garry's part.

But the kickers in general are n .652 the very small mnority. Those 100,000 who sought tickets the minute the Reds seemed to have a longshot chance at the pennant, are still trying to get the coveted cardboards. .485 The loyalty and enthusiasm of Cin-.398 cinnati in general is shown by the .258 fact that the city council has authorized the clesing of three streets to allow Herrmann to erect temporary seats in the outfield. The property owners consented willingly.

It is shown, too, by the action of the council in passing an ordinance making it a crime to hurl a pop-bottle at an umpire. The city fathers don't want to take a chance of hav ing the series crabbed by an exhibition of glass tossing.

Connie Mack and John McGraw, with six pennants apiece, are the lead ing managers of championship teams in the two major leagues. TAD'S TID-BITS

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 .- "I've seen a lot of great fighters," said Leo Flynn pushing back his iron kelly, "but take it from me, big or little, white or black, the grandest of the lot was little George Dixon. He was my idea of a wonderful fighting machine. I know that a lot of the fight fans today never saw Dixon. He's been dead ten years, you know, but his fights will live for ten more, and then some.

"I liked Gans as a fighter, too. He had almost everything but speed. Dixon had everything that Gans had, with speed added. You must remember, too, that Dixon at 98 pounds was fighting big, strong boys. He put on a bit of weight later, and then kept on giving away weight. He was fighting big, husky lightweights along with the feathers all the time, and was first under the wire nearly every trip.

'There isn't a fighter today who can rip with that old left the way Dixon could. He could rip a left to the body and upon the chin and then shoot a right over before a fellow could say 'seat.' He was a hitter, a boxer, a ring general, and was cooler than a lemon and soda.

'Kilbane? Yes, a great boy, but Dixon would have taken him. Dixon was a better feinter and better hitter. Kilbane, I admit, can sock, but he can't use the left as Dixon did. There never was another left like Dixon's. It was murderous. That old rip to the stomach was poison to

"Yes, siree, put me down as a Dixon man above all others. There were great fighters, but I can't think of one who was a master of every department of the game like 'Little Chocolate.'"

Dear Tad:—I read your article the other day in which Eddie Graney says that Jim Corbett was the star of our heavyweight boxers. I think that Mr. Graney knows something, at that. I saw Corbett at his best when he beat Jake Kilrain. He made a show of Jake if ever a show was made. I can't imagine Jim Jeffries even touching Corbett at that time.

Corbett was twenty-four years of age then and he was uncanny in his work. Jim Jeffries was twenty-four when he won the title from Fitz-I should liked to have seen the cumbersome Jeffries meet Cor-

They were talking about old-time fighters the other right at Billy Gibson's place. Some insisted that the fighters of today were scene shifters as compared with the old boys. Others said that boxing had improved so that the old-timer wouldn't have a chance with a good man of today. Then Gibson chimed in.

'It's a fact," piped Bill, "you can't make an old-timer believe that Sullivan and that gang were not unbeatable in their prime. You know I took my father to see Jim Coffey and Joe Jeanette training one day. Jim was in top form at that time and Jeanette was priming him up for me. My father watched them go through three rounds without saying a word. When the workout was finished and we were on our way down town I said to him, 'Well, pop, what do you think of my coming champion, Jim Coffey?'

Orders Players to Guard games against anybody. What's more he is just about the best infielder on Williams and Kerr Will Lead

By JACK VEIOCK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 .- "Kid" Gleason, scrappy little leader of the White Sox, is grooming his soon-to-be American league champions for the world's

The Sox are still two games removed from a mathematical cinch on the 1919 pennant today, but they are not worrying and Gleason has issued orders to his players to guard against accidents to arms, legs and hands from now on. With eight games to play, Chicago must win two, provided the Indians go through without another defeat.

For the last 10 days the Sox have been plugging along with their second string pitchers doing 90 per cent of the slab work. Eddie Cicotte has not pitched a game in two weeks and Gleason has used Kerr and Williams at five-day intervals.

This trio will be depended on to turn back the heavy stickers of the Reds when the big series gets under way. Cicotte, Williams and Kerr will very probably be used against the Reds in the order named, and Gleason figures the three pitchers, working every second day, will be enough to effectually block the ambitions of the Moran men.

The pitching ability of Cicotte and Williams has been a byword around the American league all season, but of the trio Gleason has in mind for the big series, Dickie Kerr may prove the surprise.
